

Book Reading with Maureen Millea Smith

On Wednesday, September 21, 2016, at 7:00 p.m. in the Fireside Room, at the Edina Senior Center, Maureen Millea Smith will read from and talk about her new book, The Enigma of Iris Murphy: Stories. This collection of interlinked short stories won the 2015 Tartt First Fiction Award from the Livingston Press of the University of West Alabama and was published in July. There will be books for purchase and signing.

You may know Maureen. She has worked as a librarian for the Edina Library for over 20 years and has probably helped you at one time or another. She won the Minnesota Book Award for Novel & Short in 2007, for her novel, When Charlotte Comes Home. She writes the Read piece for the Edina Magazine. Maureen lives in Edina with her husband and they have an adult daughter.
